

To all Marine Trades professionals and live-aboards:
Thank you for keeping our waterways clean and healthy!

- ◆ New to marine trades? Join us for a seminar on best practices for keeping hazardous waste out of our water.
- ◆ Need a refresher?

What: FREE 2-hour seminar

Where: Cotton Building; 607 Water St., Port Townsend

When: Tuesday, November. 5th Time: 4-6 PM

Receive: ◆ pollution prevention support and information
◆ FREE spill kits ◆ FREE waste management equipment

Speakers:

Bob Simmons, WSU - effects of common boatyard contaminants on marine ecosystems

Terry Taylor, Port of Port Townsend – best management practices at the boatyard

Jerry Mingo, HHW facility manager - types of hazardous wastes and disposal practices

FREE to attend and receive materials, but pre-registration is required:

Brown Paper Tickets— click here

or type: <https://www.brownpapertickets.com/event/4422028>

This complementary training is provided by Jefferson County Public Health with support from the Department of Ecology